Microsoft Exchange Server 2007

Microsoft Exchange is the world's most used business email system and enables communication and collaboration at many of the biggest global organisations. Unfortunately for many SMEs, the cost of running a Microsoft Exchange server 'in-house' is simply too much.

Upfront costs can exceed £20,000, plus staff time to maintain the server. This is why 'managed Exchange hosting' makes sense for many companies. Exchange hosting means that a specialist IT company runs the technology and charges a small monthly fee for each employee or 'seat' using the service. This allows businesses to enjoy the same enterprise-strength IT that FTSE 100 companies have, but at a price they can afford.
